It is hard to believe that we are rapidly approaching the end of the school year. We have been through so much. The end of the school year brings lots of joy and plans for the summer, but let's not forget we need to finish all necessary work and testing before we leave. Our students are about to undergo very important tests like the Georgia Milestones and EOCs (End Of Course tests). Understanding standardized testing will help you enable your child to succeed in school and knowing how to help them will benefit them. There are things you could do before, during, and after testing. The following link will give you tips on how to help your child prepare for standardized tests. <https://www.colorincolorado.org/article/parent-tips-how-help-your-child-prepare-standardized-tests>
